

Key Insights & Recommendations

1. Revenue Growth is Seasonal

Revenue shows strong spikes during festive months, indicating high demand concentration in specific periods.

Implication: Business performance is heavily event-driven.

2. Retention is Moderate but Gap is Long

54.2% of customers repeat purchases, but the average repeat gap is 129 days (~4 months).

Implication: Customers return, but purchase frequency can be improved.

3. Customer Base Skews Toward Low Activity

A significant portion of customers fall under New/Low Activity segments.

Implication: Growth opportunity lies in converting one-time buyers into repeat customers.

4. Online Channel Dominates

Online generates ~65% of revenue, while 70% of customers remain single-channel shoppers.

Implication: Cross-channel engagement is underutilized.

5. Organic Campaigns Drive Highest Revenue

Organic marketing contributes the largest revenue share compared to influencer and festive campaigns.

Implication: Brand-led growth is strong, but campaign ROI optimization is required.

Strategic Recommendations

1. Reduce Repeat Gap

Deploy automated reactivation campaigns at 90–110 days.

2. Increase Omnichannel Adoption

Incentivize cross-channel purchases and integrate loyalty across platforms.

3. Convert Low-Activity Customers

Introduce targeted offers and personalized follow-ups.

4. Capitalize on Seasonal Peaks

Increase marketing spend pre-festival and smooth post-season dips.

5. Shift Focus from Acquisition to Lifecycle Value

Optimize campaigns not only for revenue, but for long-term retention.
